OBJECTIVE

To explore perspectives in Serbia within the Circle U. university alliance on the current challenges to democracy, highlighting voices of resistance, civic engagement, and academic responsibility in times of social and political uncertainty.

CURRENT SITUATION

Since December 2024, students across Serbia have emerged as a powerful force of mobilization and resistance.

Students organize mass protests across the country, occupying public universities, and demanding institutional accountability for the tragic event in Novi Sad, greater academic freedoms, and social justice.

The whole academic community under pressure.

Academic freedom is not an abstract right but a daily practice under pressure.

Real experiences of censorship, self-censorship, and external interference.
